

ARE YOU ACTING LAWFULLY OR UNLAWFULLY?

I only recognise Common Law, Law of the land, and because I have not hurt any living or breathing human, you have broken my Common Law rights by forcefully pulling me over.

Under Common Law you have no authority to neither talk to me nor ask me any questions, which includes identifying myself nor anyone who may be in my car/vehicle/transportation/presence.

"There is no common law power vested in police giving them the unfettered right to stop or detain a person and seek identification details. Nor, is s.59 of the (Road Safety) Act a statutory source of such power." Magistrate Duncan Reynolds - Melbourne - July 2013

And for that....

You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say can and will be used against you in a Common Law Commercial Lien which I will legally seize your property.

1. If you lay your hands on me, you are assaulting me with a deadly weapon.
2. Not knowing the Law is inexcusable. You use this on us. Now I am using this on YOU.
3. The Australian Government Law Reform Commission states the following: 15.89 The common law privilege against self-incrimination entitles a person to refuse to answer any question, or produce any document, if the answer or the production would tend to incriminate that person.[123] Although broadly referred to as the privilege against self-incrimination, the concept encompasses three distinct privileges: a privilege against self-incrimination in criminal matters; a privilege against self-exposure to a civil or administrative penalty (including any monetary penalty which might be imposed by a court or an administrative authority, but excluding private civil proceedings for damages); and a privilege against self-exposure to the forfeiture of an existing right (which is less commonly invoked).
4. If you forcibly detain me and/or demand for me to provide you and/or your PERSON with any identification, breath alcohol samples, blood alcohol samples, any drug samples, DNA samples, verbal statements, documents or any data files, I am doing it UNDER DURESS and will not be valid in any Court.
5. I have been recording you whilst you have read this. This will be used as evidence against you.
